The Power of Story

Diverse Books for All Readers

About This Catalog

There's nothing more powerful than a story to connect us, to help us understand each other, and to build empathy.

With this catalog, we aim to share books for all ages that represent diversity of race, ethnicity, sexual orientation, gender identity, physical and mental abilities, religion, and culture. The following pages are a selection of diverse titles for all ages. The complete catalog of titles can be found in our Diverse Books Catalog at Scholastic.com/DiverseBooks.

For a full listing of available Spanish language titles, please visit our Scholastic en español catalog at Scholastic.com/SpanishCatalog. For other languages, please visit rights.scholastic.com for further information on Scholastic titles that foreign publishers have licensed in translation.

In sharing these books with young people, you will be giving them the opportunity to see themselves and their communities reflected, to read widely, and to understand and expand their world.

A colorful illustration of a young girl with brown hair in a red dress with pink polka dots and a young boy with blonde hair and glasses in a blue striped shirt and blue pants. They are both smiling and holding a long, multi-colored ribbon that stretches across the page. The background is a light green and yellow wash with some darker green brushstrokes at the top and bottom.

Scholastic Mission Statement:
To encourage the intellectual and personal growth of all children,
beginning with literacy.

Scholastic Credo

We strive to present the clearest explanation of current affairs and contemporary thought, and to encourage literary appreciation and expression consistent with the understanding and interests of young people at all levels of learning.

Scholastic pledges to uphold the basic freedoms of all individuals; we are unalterably opposed to any system of government or society that denies these freedoms. We oppose discrimination of any kind on the basis of race, creed, color, sex, age, or national origin.

Good citizens may honestly differ on important public questions. We believe that all sides of the issues of our times should be fairly discussed—with deep respect for facts and logical thinking—in classroom magazines, books, and other educational materials used in schools and homes.

Scholastic Believes In . . .

- The worth and dignity of each individual
- Respect for the diverse groups in our multicultural society
- The right of each individual to live in a wholesome environment, and equally, the personal responsibility of each individual to help gain and preserve a decent and healthful environment, beginning with informed care of one's own body and mind
- High moral and spiritual values
- The democratic way of life, with basic liberties—and responsibilities—for everyone
- Constitutional, representative government, and evenhanded justice that maintains equality of rights for all people
- Responsible competitive enterprise and responsible labor, with opportunities for all
- Cooperation and understanding among all people for the peace of the world
